1. Subscribers who do not give express notice to the contrary are considered as wishing to continue their subscriptions.

2. If subscribers order the discontinuance of their papers, the publisher may continue to send them until all arrearages are paid; the subscribers are responsible for all the numbers sent.

3. If subscribers neglect or refuse to take their papers from the office to which they are directed, they are held responsible till they have settled their bills, and ordered their papers discontinued.

4. The Courts have decided that a refusal to take a newspaper or periodical from the Post Office without notifying the publisher, and the payment of all arrearages, is prima facie evidence of fraud.

5. Subscribers to newspapers or periodicals removing, are liable to pay so long as the paper or periodical may be sent to the residence of the party at the time of subscription, unless notice is sent of such removal to the publication office.

BOOTS AND SHOES

MADE ON

PLUMER'S PATENT ANATOMICAL LASTS.

[From J. V. C. Smith, M. D., formerly Mayor of Boston.]

PLUMER'S PATENT BOOTS.

The Undersigned has worn a pair of these Improved Boots, and feels grateful to the Inventor for the comfort derived from them. The nice adjustment of the sole to every part of the under surface of the foot, is an important circumstance which seems to have been entirely overlooked till Dr. Plumer planned his Last and Boot upon truly scientific principles.

Those who have once had an opportunity to test the real advantages of these Philosophically made Boots, will hardly be reconciled to wear any other.

J. V. C. SMITH.

BOSTON, July 28, 1851.

J. C. PLUMER, M. D.

Dear Sir: I am greatly delighted with your newly invented Boots which I have worn during the past winter and only wonder that the world should have been so stupid as not to have made the discovery half a century ago. Any one with a grain of common sense and a moments reflection, cannot fail to see that your "PATENT BOOTS AND SHOES" are perfectly adapted to the foot (that wonderful piece of Nature's Mechanism), giving to every portion of it a full and equal support; and I am sure that those who once make trial of your new invention will never go back to the old, wedge-toed boots or shoes, which are so prolific of Corns, Bunions, and a thousand other troubles. Your "Patent Boots" seems to be part and parcel of our Physical structure, supporting the foot firmly, giving steadiness to the gait, and promoting human comfort to an eminent degree, especially in walking over rough surfaces.

I wish I knew of some means by which I could make known to every man, woman and child in Christendom, the nature and importance of your invention.

Very truly yours,

MORRIS MATTSON, M. D.

65 Summer Street.

PORTLAND, July 12, 1860.

DR. PLUMER—

Dear Sir: Having learned the principle upon which your "Anatomical Last" is made, I was favorably impressed as to its efficiency in relieving a difficulty which all have experienced, who have to walk considerably, viz: severe pain in the feet after much walking. After having worn the boots made upon the "Anatomical Last," I found my anticipations more than realized. I can walk nearly all day without experiencing the above named difficulty in the least degree. I also escaped the torturing process of breaking in my boots, for they were as easy at first as after they had been worn.

Truly Yours, C. H. BURBANK, M. D.

MOFFATT'S

LIFE PILLS, and PHŒNIX BITTERS.

THESE MEDICINES have now been before the public for a period of THIRTY YEARS, and during that time have maintained a high character in almost every part of the globe for their extraordinary and immediate power of restoring perfect health to persons suffering under nearly every kind of disease to which the human frame is liable.

The most horrible cases of SCROFULA, in which the FACE, BONES and LIMBS of the victim have been preyed upon by the insatiable disease, are proved by the undeniable authority of the sufferers themselves to have been completely cured by these purely vegetable Medicines after all others had been found more than useless.

Obstinate cases of PILES, of many years standing, have rapidly and permanently yielded to the same means, and others of like kind are daily cured in every part of the country.

Habitual as well as Occasional Costiveness, Dyspepsia, Bilious and Liver Diseases, Asthma, Dropsy, Rheumatism, Fever and Ague, Worms, Settled Pains in the Organs and Limbs;

Together with a long catalogue of other maladies are shown on the same indisputable evidence, to be everywhere and invariably exterminated by these mildly operating, yet sure and speedy resources of health and strength, without the usual aid of puffery and artificial recommendations.

☞ Moffatt's Vegetable Life Pills and Phœnix Bitters have thus acquired a solid and enduring reputation which bids defiance to contradiction, and which is co-extensive with the American population.

Both the LIFE PILLS and PHŒNIX BITTERS are mild and agreeable in their operation, and effectually cleanse the system of all impurities without occasioning any prostration of strength, or requiring any confinement or change of diet.

Prepared and sold by Dr. WM. B. MOFFATT, 335 Broadway, New York.

The Regiment is located at Fort Corcoran, one of the healthiest localities on the Potomac, and is under experienced Officers and Surgeons, and in every way thoroughly equipped.

The pay is $13 per month and rations, which latter are abundant, and from the excess over actual need, men have realized as much as $3 per month.

At the end of the enlistment, a bounty of $100 will be paid.

The Second Maine Regiment—Matters at Washington.

In a recent visit to Fort Corcoran, we were gratified to find our Bangor regiment in excellent condition and spirits, and eager for a chance at the rebels, which, by the way, they were soon likely to have. They had orders to break camp at Fort Corcoran (which they have held for more than three months) and to move to Ball's Cross Roads, three miles towards Falls Church, and we suppose they may have since gone further. They are thus put into the grand line of advance which appears gradually moving towards the enemy all along the Potomac.

We shook hands with Col. Roberts, Lieut. Col. Varney, Dr. Hamlin, Dr. Morison, Capt. Adams and many of the men, and found them all in excellent health, and apparently as robust as lumbermen. The beard movement seems particularly popular with them, and has gone a streak ahead of their home toilets. Some of the regimental officers were absent at Washington, on business, and we did not happen to see them.—Gen. Jameson with his brigade was below Alexandria. The officers, however, knew no more about the position of other regiments or brigades than we did. Knowledge is very difficult of acquisition in these parts just now—and so are passes to cross the Potomac, as we found by experience. The regulations have been tightened amazingly within a week or two, and no passes are supposed to be given except in cases of important business or extreme necessity. Wives and children are not now allowed to pass to the camps, as those meetings are thought to exercise a deleterious influence upon the men.

Fort Corcoran, and the other forts in that vicinity, under the watchful supervision of Colonel Roberts, presented the most orderly and neat appearance that we have observed in any of the volunteer camps. Every part was kept scrupulously clean, and the men required to be neat in their personal habits. The Colonel, and so far as we could learn, the other officers are much liked by the men, and will, in case of battle, be able to lead the regiment to even greater deeds of valor than it has heretofore performed. Gen. McClellan having complimented it by assigning it a post of honor at Fort Corcoran when there was danger of an immediate attack by the enemy, now sends it again in the advance, where fighting is to be found if anywhere.

Important forward movements are plainly in progress over the Potomac, and along our whole line, but nobody has any definite information on the subject. We know that many troops were on the move last week, in different directions on both sides the river—quite a number of regiments having been sent up the river and across Chain Bridge, the latter part of the week, and twenty or thirty thousand to Annapolis for the great naval expedition. Little is said in the papers about the arrival of fresh troops from the North, but the army is being constantly reinforced, and to an extent not generally supposed. We encountered no less than four new regiments (among them Senator Wilson's 22d Massachusetts), on their way to the capitol, while we were going from Baltimore and returning. The railroad is under military control by the Government—which does not interfere, however, with the running of the passenger trains. Guards are stationed at every depot and along the line at intervals, not only for the protection of the road against possible damage by secessionists but to enable the Government to stop any person whom it may wish to detain. At the Gunpowder Creek and Back River bridges, 18 or 20 miles from Baltimore, (which were destroyed to prevent our troops from passing to the Capital in April last, and since rebuilt) there are encampments of troops, and heavy cannon commanding the entire length of the bridges—from half to three quarters of a mile. There is no [illegible] of any demonstration at present, however—and not at all unless our army should [illegible] a defeat on the Potomac. In that case, although Baltimore now professes to be loyal, the secessionists would perhaps rise, get masters of the city, and attempt to aid the [illegible] "perhaps," for although [illegible] good enough, and their numbers sufficient to overwhelm the Unionists [illegible] have a wholesome conviction (as we found upon conversation during a stay of a few hours) that Fort McHenry and the new fortifications on Federal Hill, together with Uncle Sam's regiments encamped around, would leave but little of the city to tell the tale of insurrection. The new fort on Federal Hill is much nearer than Fort McHenry, being in fact directly in the city. Hundreds of soldiers and laborers are constantly to be seen at work upon the embankments and twenty or thirty heavy guns are already mounted.

The Order for Woolen Goods, sent to England by Quartermaster Thomas of the United States army, has occasioned great surprise in Boston and New York. Mr. Thomas is accompanied by Mr. Hampton Smith, formerly a well known dry goods jobber of Pittsburg, Pennsylvania. From Washington we learn that this transaction attracts much attention. It is said that our domestic industry is not only able to supply the wants of the Government, but that it is suffering for the want of such employment.

The Boston Post has a timely and spirited article on this important subject, from which we make this extract:

> We trust he (Mr. Thomas) will be directed to return, and that our own manufactures will be allowed to supply the wants of the army, which they are amply competent to do, not sixty per centum of their power being yet called into action. The expenditure of so large a sum abroad—that much from our stock of gold—depriving our industry of so great an amount of employment, and the consequent increase of the price of the raw material in Europe—would be a serious blow to the interests of the nation, and a serious embarrassment in the future financial operations of the Administration.
> The subscriptions to the national loan have been urged and effected upon the ground that the money would return to the people in recompense for labor and supplies, and that not a dollar, where it was possible to avoid it, would be expended out of the country. This policy should be adhered to, to enable us to sustain the Government and save ourselves from depressing poverty; we hope that the matter will be reconsidered in season to save us from the unfortunate consequences the accomplishment of the mission would entail.

The Providence Journal thus speaks of the affair:

> We are confident that the report cannot be true. It is not possible that in the present condition of our own manufactures, and in the present attitude of England towards us, the government would send to Leeds and Bradford for the goods that can be supplied just as well, just as cheap, and just as quick in Massachusetts and Rhode Island.

The "Standing Committee on the Crisis" of the Boston Board of Trade held a meeting in regard to this matter, and have asked the Government to suspend action until the case can be more fully presented.

The Associated Banks have also protested against the foreign purchase on account of the effect upon the national finances.

The advent of Ohio troops into Kentucky is said to have caused great rejoicing among the people of that State. As regiment after regiment arrives, the citizens are alive to the wants of the soldiers, and in some quarters remain all night, anxious to provide them with every comfort they may need in their march to protect the interests of the Union in their midst. In Central Kentucky, by these demonstrations the cause of secession has received a check, and in others, heretofore considered in a precarious condition, the presence of a large number of Ohio military has exercised a salutary influence.

Accounts concur in representing that the utmost hostility exists between the Unionists and secessionists in Kentucky. The Lexington correspondent of the Cincinnati Gazette writes as follows upon this point:

> No man can understand the bitterness of the feeling now existing between the Secessionists and the loyal men of Kentucky, without actually passing through the country, and witnessing it for himself. All the stories about the hatred between the Cavaliers and Roundheads in England, between the Faithful and the Moors in Spain, between the old Roman patricians and the plebeians before the Licinian laws, can scarcely parallel the vindictive fierceness that marks the civil war now raging almost at our doors.

The Legislature of Connecticut have appropriated $2500 to Governor Buckingham as a remuneration for the various expenses which it is known he has incurred in furnishing and hastening forward the volunteers during the past three months. The Governor has been constantly active, and in his dealings with companies and regiments he has not stopped to wait for money, but has paid liberally out of his own pocket, and this legislation is simply to reimburse him. A similar resolution, though it appropriated a less sum, was passed at the recent regular session. Gov. Buckingham, however, has hitherto refused to take the money. The regular salary of the Governor, in the State of Connecticut is only $1100.

In times like the present, when a Governor is obliged to spend all his time, and labor day and night, taxing his energies to their utmost capacity, the State of Connecticut has done manifestly right. The salary of the Governor of Maine, is fifteen hundred dollars but we think the Legislature will do well to emulate the example of our sister State.

From Missouri. The following items are from articles in the St. Louis papers of the 10th:

> Small parties of rebels are said to be foraging with a 60 miles of Georgetown, but they invariably take to flight when they see any of our troops.
> Letters received from Price's army state that ex-Governor Jackson is at present very dissipated and bordering on delirium tremens—that he often roves about the camp like a maniac.
> Price thinks that in a few years the Southern Confederacy will embrace all of Mexico, Cuba, and the greater part of South America, and that its only European rival in power will be Russia. He expresses serious apprehensions respecting Missouri, but believes that the Confederacy can prosper without the border States, which are now, he is reported to say, almost entirely Abolitionized.

The New York Banks and the Loan.—The New York City banks met on Friday at the American Exchange Bank, to consider the subject of the third fifty million Government loan. The sense of the meeting was in favor of not only taking it at once, but of negotiating with Secretary Chase for the $100,000,000 of seven per cent notes which he is authorized to issue at par. Finally, the matter was referred to a committee of [illegible] day. [illegible]

Fortunately no limbs were broken, although nearly all received more or less scratches and bruises.

A Valuable Dog. The Lewiston Journal says that a boy in that place has a dog who does a large business in picking up drift wood in the river. He sits on the shore with ears pricked up, eyeing the surface of the water, anxiously in search of floating sticks. As soon as he espies one, off he dashes into the stream, swims to the stick, catches it in his mouth, and returns with it to the shore, then stations himself on his lookout—a high rock, watches his game and repeats the process. Thus he spends hour after hour "on his own hook," serving his master's pocket, and taking to all appearance, an intelligent delight in making himself useful.

The Fog Bell at White Head. The Portland Advertiser says that parties residing near the fog bell at White Head assert that the bell was ringing on the occasion recently alluded to when it was not heard on board the steamers M. Sanford and Daniel Webster. This is remarkable, if true, for the pilots of those boats have as sharp ears as any afloat. The Advertiser thinks, however, that the fault is in the low tone of the bells, and says the Light House Board have for some time been aware of this, and are introducing the steel bells, which have a sharper tone and can be better heard than heavier ones of common bell metal.

Rev. Joseph P. French, of the East Maine Conference, now stationed at Bucksport, and formerly of the Union St church in this city, has just received the necessary papers for recruiting a company for the war. Mr. French will make an energetic commander.

Neal Dow's Regiment. We understand that the State authorities are in negotiation with the authorities at Washington, for two batteries of rifled six-pounders to be attached to the 13th Regiment. If the negotiation is successful they will be probably under the command of Gen. Tillson, a West Point graduate, and Col. J. E. Kimball, of Bangor, both experienced artillery officers. An English gentleman who served in the artillery of the British army through the Crimean war, and was constantly in the trenches at the seige of Sebastopol until its surrender, has tendered his services to Col. Dow in any capacity in which he can be useful. From present indications this regiment will soon be full.—Portland Adv.

Southern Kentucky and the New York Times—The Peril and Glory of Kentucky. A Louisville correspondent of the New York Times (not "Pontiac," the regular Louisville correspondent of that paper,) with a great show of sorrow and professions of recognition of the imperative demands of truth, announces that the surrender of Lexington had a disastrous effect in Kentucky in driving thousands to the banner of the rebellion. He dated his letter at Louisville at a time when he could have had no personal acquaintance with the news which he undertakes to give. There is not a word of truth in his statement. No such disastrous result has been seen in any part of Kentucky. We have almost daily intercourse with every portion of Kentucky from which news can be obtained, and no such effect has been seen anywhere in the State. We have ample reasons for knowing that from the firing upon Fort Sumter to the present hour, the Union sentiment and co-operation have never been as strong as at this hour. In this we speak what we know. The work of enlistment for the war has never been as active in Kentucky as since the surrender at Lexington, and the recruiting of the rebels in this State has never been as feeble as it is now.

Louisville Journal.

Secession Chivalry. John C. Breckinridge escaped from Lexington by skulking in a buggy behind a small nigger, and James B. Clay, loaded with all sorts of weapons, was captured by a small white boy.—Louisville Jour.

The Cleveland Herald learns that General Cox (under Rosecrans in Western Virginia) is at Gauley, from which point he is pushing on to Logan, a distance of about sixty miles, at which point General Sherman is to join his forces, cut off Breckinridge, and secure the Cumberland Pass to ourselves. Great importance is attached by both sides to the possession of Cumberland Gap, inasmuch as it controls Tennessee and the Southern States.

Special Dispatch to the Boston Journal.

Washington, 18th.

Mr. H. N. Hunt of the firm of N. J. Cole & Co., Boston, leaves today for Maine with authority to raise five batteries of light artillery.

The Louisville Journal of the 15th says that it has reliable information for saying that Gen. Buckner has found himself, in his invasion of Kentucky, deeply disappointed, and that it has good reason to believe that at the utmost not more than one thousand men have joined him since his arrival in the State, and that scarcely any are joining him now.

The army of Austria consists of a grand total of 738,344 men and 1,038 guns; that of Prussia contains 719,092 men and 1,444 guns; the army of Russia about 850,000 men and 1,160 guns; the army of France 626,482 men; and that of Great Britain, in all parts of the world, 534,527 men.

Our secessionists thought the United States Government guilty of the grossest usurpation and outrage in forbidding its citizens to carry their produce to the Southern Confederacy. Let them tell us what they think of the conduct of the Confederate authorities in prohibiting the planters of the South from carrying their produce to the markets in their own States.—Louisville Jour.

Madame Saqui, a rope dancer, although 88 years of age, appeared at the Hippodrome at Paris, in the exercise of her profession.

The Army Movements at Washington. The Washington correspondent of the New York Independent, writing under date of Sunday last, says:

> Heavy bodies of troops are steadily moving down to Annapolis by the railroad, to join a sea expedition—to what point of the coast of course remains a secret. While our citizens were quietly at church this morning, at least 30 pieces of artillery, with all the proper equipments, were taken down to the railroad depot for shipment to Annapolis. One of our most prominent military authorities expresses the opinion that battles will be fought during the same week in Missouri, Kentucky, Western Virginia, Eastern Virginia, and somewhere along the coast. To those who have watched closely the movements of Statesmen and politicians in this vicinity of late, the prospect of an immediate conflict with the enemy upon the field of battle is not disagreeable, terrible as that conflict may prove to be.

Well Put. While England is desiring our defeat and humiliation, while her people are sneering at our distresses and cheering our enemies, and her government is conniving at the violation of its own laws in aid of the wicked men who are striking at the Union, she is looking to us for food. If the South supplies her with the means of keeping her machines in motion, the North supplies her with the means of keeping her workmen from famishing. Cut off her trade with us and she loses her best customer, and loses her supply of food. Is she not in a pretty condition to boast of her own strength and to declaim upon our weakness.—Providence Journal.

Position of the Rebel Lines—Retreat of the Rebel Army—Alleged Suffering in Texas—the Fight at Harper's Ferry—Threat of the Rebels to burn Bolivar and Harper's Ferry—A Balloon Reconnoissance by LaMountain—Resignation of Col Wilson—Founder of Odd Fellowship dead—Correspondence between Lord Lyon and Secretary Seward Concerning Arrest of British Subjects

NEW YORK, 18th

The Petersburg (Va.) Express of the 15th has additional particulars of the affair at New Orleans. It states that the Turtle, the iron clad steam tug, ran against the Preble without firing a gun, immediately sinking her. The balls from the whole federal fleet glanced from her.

The Turtle then turned toward the other vessels who got ashore in endeavoring to escape, their crews deserting them. Hollins says he will be able to capture and bring them to New Orleans. The Preble cannot be raised.

A large number of prisoners, arms and ammunition were taken during the action—New Orleans was illuminated on receipt of the intelligence. Hollins arrived there on the 11th.

[The above, it will be seen, is altogether a rebel account.]

The same paper states that Com Hollins confirms the defeat of Billy Wilson's Zouaves on Santa Rosa Island.

The Richmond Enquirer of the 14th states that several hundred bales of cotton have been returned to their owners, and all the cotton will hereafter be sent back to the planters at their own expense.

LOUISVILLE, 17th

It is reported that Hardee is in command at Bowling Green, with 10,000 rebels, including [illegible]000 Texans, who, from their wild appearance, the people there take for Indians.

NEW YORK, 18th

The Times Washington despatch states that the rebel line now extends from Aquia Creek in a northwesterly direction to a gap in the Blue Ridge, a little west of Manassas Gap.

The Tribune's Washington despatch says that a Virginian returned today, having been released from confinement at Fairfax Court House, with others on account of the evacuation of that place by the rebels. He states that on Wednesday they burned thousands of bushels of corn and wheat to prevent its falling into our hands, and all the citizens have left for Richmond and other points.

NEW YORK, 18th

The Herald's Washington despatch says that the rebels called in all their pickets, deserted Vienna, tore up the track of the Loudon and Hampshire Railroad and fell back with their entire column on Fairfax Court House.

A despatch to General McClellan says the rebels are retiring from Leesburg. And have prepared for a speedy withdrawal of their whole force. It is thought this falling back is only taking the choice of Bull Run again as a battle field which has so many natural advantages.

In the recent passage of Shipping Point the Pawnee received seven shots, one passing from one side to the other of her hull. The rebels are building another battery behind the one which fired on the Pawnee.

A merchant just from Texas states that there is great distress there. Provisions are exorbitantly high at Galveston. The announcement of the expeditions being fitted out for the Southern coast created great alarm there and a delegation had been sent to New Orleans to procure cannon.

The rebels are compelled to keep a large force at San Antonio, on account of the restiveness of the Union Germans, who have frequently been compelled to haul down the Union Flag at the point of the bayonet.

BALTIMORE, 18

A gentleman who spent the whole of yesterday at Harper's Ferry says the accounts of the fight on Wednesday are in the main correct. The cannon captured is a fine new siege gun, well mounted and in good order, with the exception of a fracture above the axles, caused during the fight. It was stationed near the abutment of the bridges and when about being retaken by the rebels a tenpenny nail was driven into it, which has been withdrawn.

The Rhode Island battery did not participate in the fight. They were stationed on Maryland heights and found it impossible to distinguish friends from foes in the distance. The contest lasted from 8 in the morning till 2 in the afternoon. It was a regular skirmish with varying results, the rebels when hard pressed retreated into the woods and at other times driving the Federals back into Bolivar.

The Maine regiment was beyond Bolivar, on the road to Charlestown.

At 2 o'clock Col Geary arrived with three pieces of cannon, which soon silenced the enemy's guns and put the entire force to flight.—The Chaplain who was taken prisoner, says before he was captured, 87 were killed and wounded and had been carried from the field.

The Federals remained at the ford all night, and yesterday morning, having brought across the river the remainder of the 10,000 bushels of wheat captured from the military depot, which they were about transporting to Leesburg an order was given for the whole force to retire to the Maryland side.

Great distress prevailed among the few remaining residents of Bolivar, information having reached there that it was the intention of the rebels to destroy both Bolivar and Harper's Ferry on Thursday night by fire. They were all packing up preparatory to flight. There has been nothing from there this morning as to whether the threat was carried out.

NEW YORK, 18

Prof LaMountain made a balloon reconnoissance this afternoon, the wind carrying him six miles over the rebel camp to Fairfax Station and Court House and landed at Blenker's headquarters. He saw their encampments at Manassas, but no rebel force this side of Fairfax Court House, at which place there were but few companies, with the appearance of a recent evacuation. There was a large force at Fairfax Station.

Other valuable information was obtained and is in the hands of the Government. When landing, our German troops fired on him several times thinking he was a rebel. Several bullets perforated his balloon.

It is stated that the rebels object to going into winter quarters in Virginia, and insist on wintering either in Kentucky or Maryland, and the men from the extreme Southern States insist on going home, and murmur badly at the present inactivity.

It is presumed that a large force has been sent from Virginia to Kentucky as there is now no prospect of their invading Maryland.

A Cabinet meeting was held this morning, at which our foreign relations were discussed. The tone of the latest despatches from abroad indicate a more favorable feeling, and the whole diplomatic corps in Washington evince more cordiality.

FORTRESS MONROE, 18th.

Gen Wool has issued an order giving every male contraband eight dollars a month and females four dollars.

AUGUSTA, 19th.

NEW YORK, 19th.

Lieut. Dalton, Surgeon [illegible] of the [illegible]dale, and Surgeon Page of the Relief, who arrived home in the Relief, have been arrested, and sent to Fort Lafayette yesterday. They are all secesh.

The Herald states that Col. Wilson has resigned the command of the Massachusetts 22d regiment, and Capt Saxton of the regular army has been appointed his successor.

BALTIMORE, 19th

Thomas Wildey, the founder of the order of Odd Fellows, died this morning suddenly.

WASHINGTON, 18th

Lord Lyons several days ago addressed a letter to the Secretary of State, in which he said Her Majesty's government was much concerned in the case of two British subjects, Messrs. Patrick and Shannie, who had been subjected to arbitrary arrests, and although they had been released, it could not but view the matter as one requiring very serious consideration.

Lord Lyons, under instructions, therefore felt bound to remonstrate against such irregular proceedings, as he designated them, and to say the authority of Congress was necessary to justify the arbitrary arrest and imprisonment of British subjects.

Secretary Seward in the course of his reply, after detailing the facts in regard to the prisoners named, says:—The proceedings of which the British government complain, were taken upon information conveyed to the President by the loyal police authorities of the country, and were not instituted until after he had suspended the Government writ of freedom. In just the extent that in view of the perils of the State, he deemed necessary for the existence of that decision, he as well as his advisers, among whom are the Secretaries of War and State, is responsible by law before the highest judicial tribunal of the Republic, and amenable also to the judgment of his countrymen, and to the enlightened portion of the civilized world.

In conclusion, he remarks that the safety of the whole people has become in the present emergency the supreme law, and so long as the danger shall exist all classes of society, the denizen and the citizen, cheerfully acquiesce in measures that the law prescribes. This Government does not question the learning of the legal advisers of the British Crown, or the justice of the deference which Her Majesty pays to them.

Nevertheless, the British Government will hardly expect that the President will accept their explanations of the Constitution of the United States especially when the Constitution thus expounded, will leave upon him the sole executive responsibility of suppressing the existing insurrection, while it would transfer to Congress the most material and indispensable power to be employed for that purpose.

Moreover these explanations find no real support in the letter and much less in the spirit of the Constitution itself.

He must be allowed therefore to prefer and be governed by our organic national law, which, while it will enable him to execute his great trust with complete success, receives the sanction of the highest authorities of our own country, and is sustained by the general consent of the people for whom alone that Constitution was established.

CANADIAN PAPERS ON SECRETARY SEWARD'S CIRCULAR

LATER FROM EUROPE.

NEW YORK, 20

A special despatch from Washington says a gentleman just from the South states that our squadron below New Orleans had an engagement with the rebel squadron under Hollins, and that two of our vessels got aground and suffered considerably. The sinking of the Preble is denied. None of our vessels were captured, and but few lives lost.

On Saturday Gen Heintzelman made a reconnoissance in force toward the Occoquan river, and encountered the rebel pickets at Pohic Church, who retreated and gave the alarm. The beat of the long roll in the rebel camp across the Accotink was distinctly heard.

From the information obtained it appears that there is no force of the enemy between the telegraph road and the river above Occoquan, and there only a few rebel troops at the latter place.

There was a reconnoissance by Col Sweitzer, of Gen McClellan's Staff, on Saturday, for some distance beyond Vienna. Nothing was seen of the rebels.

A contraband who arrived at Gen Stone's camp reports that the rebel regiments at Leesburg had packed up, and were ready to retreat on Goose Creek or Manassas.

Full account of the attack by the rebel batteries on the Resolute state that she was delayed three quarters of an hour by a chain stretched across the river, during which time 150 shells were fired by the rebels. The schooner Fairfax, being nearest the batteries, received at least 50. Finally the ropes fastening her to the Resolute, parted, and she was captured. Capt. Foster would have fired her, but had not time, owing to the urgent necessity of caring for his own vessel, which was fouling the chain. The Resolute was hit a number of times, but not a person was injured on board of her or the other vessel. The firing extended through a distance of nearly two miles, embracing five batteries. One shot from Shipping Point reached the Maryland shore, a distance of four miles.

It is stated that the spot on the Maryland shore opposite Shipping Point has been cleared of trees, evidently to prevent the Federal troops from erecting a battery there unperceived by the rebels.

The rebels are erecting permanent batteries at Cockpit Point and Freestone Point. A considerable number of rebels were seen hard at work there yesterday.

Twenty-six vessels are known to have run the rebel blockade on Thursday night.

The propellers Seymour and Chamberlain have arrived at Alexandria, having run the blockade, each with a vessel loaded with hay.

GREAT SALT LAKE CITY, 18.

The California Express passed through here yesterday, bearing the following despatch for the press—

The steamer St. Louis sailed for Panama on the 10th, carrying about 200 passengers and $1,866,000 in treasure for New York.

No change in the market is given since the last Express, except in tobacco—sales of 200 cases of choice brands of Virginia, at advanced [illegible].

Money remains easy.

The Treasury shipment yesterday, was somewhat below the average, but the sales of Government transfer drafts has probably made up the full average. Exchange on New York 1½ per cent premium.

The brig Providence, from San Francisco for Victoria, foundered at sea on the 15th of Sept. Many San Francisco Merchants suffered heavily from the disaster. The cargo proved a total loss.

A fire broke out in San Francisco on the 10th at the corner of Adrian and Washington Sts., which destroyed a number of wooden buildings, doing about $25,000 damage.

The Legislature of Nevada Territory continued in session, showing a disposition to adopt the laws of California on all important subjects.

Lady Franklin and her neice were received with much ceremony by the Nevada Territorial Legislature, on the 8th inst.

Dates received from Oregon to the 9th, state that a State Fair was held at Portland, which ended on the 8th. It was considered a success, being the first held in Oregon. 15,000 persons were on the ground. Miss Case, of Salem, Mass., won the first prize for the best female equestrianship, there being 16 competitors.

The steamer Julia arrived at Portland on the 8th, bringing $40,000 in gold dust.

Judge Wait, presiding at the Circuit Court for Washington Territory, sentenced the four Indians, who murdered Briggs and his son, to be hung Nov 8.

The bark Yankee brings Sandwich Island dates to Sept 21st.

The Hawaiian government has declared strict neutrality in relation to the American civil war. Privateers cannot enter any of the Sandwich Island harbors.

An acre of sugar cane at Maui, yielded 20 gallons of molasses.

The Hawaiian Advertiser has the following:

"It is correctly reported that the French commissioner has made sundry demands on this Government, and that there may be some cause of serious trouble. Rumors have been busy during the past week or two regarding the character of the demands. Today we hear that there is also demand for the recall of the Foreign Ministers, the next day that they have demanded their passports, again that the Judges of the Supreme Court are to be expelled and sent adrift, and lastly that the town is to be bombarded unless the property left by a Spaniard named Jose Habalusfirth be surrendered.—This Spaniard died three years ago, leaving his property to the Catholic Church, which the Hawaiian Government refused to deliver."

A gentleman had been making a tour of Oahu, urging the natives to commence the cultivation of cotton, and for this purpose he was distributing cotton seed. Among them however, was the common native seed, which is barely fit to cultivate, having almost degenerated to a rank weed during the 30 or 40 years since it was introduced.

WASHINGTON, 19th

General Stevens having been ordered to a more important field of duty, he will be followed by the Highland regiment, which he has recently commanded as Colonel.

A New York and two Pennsylvania regiments are alternately on picket duty at Vienna, where the Highlanders have been similarly engaged.

Persons attached to the steam tug Resolute report that at about 11 o'clock this morning, while off Occoquan, near Budd's Point, the cable by which the Resolute was towing the schooner Fairfax, from Philadelphia broke, when the latter drifted towards the shore. The rebels in boats started out and captured her. The Resolute was, it is added, fired at from the battery in that vicinity, but being unable to render assistance made her way to Washington, where she arrived this evening. The Fairfax was heavily laden with hay.

It is reported that the rebels have stretched a chain over the river to impede the passage of vessels, but the Resolute being of lighter draft than the Fairfax, passed over it.

Gen McCall, with the Pennsylvania reserve corps, together with cavalry and artillery left Prospect Hill early this morning on a reconnoissance. Information received tonight says they reached Dorsanville above, ten miles from Prospect Hill without opposition. Dorsanville is within about 15 miles of Leesburg.

WASHINGTON, 20th.

The report from the steam tug Resolute, mentioned in a previous despatch, that the rebels have stretched a chain across the Potomac near Budds Point Ferry, proves to be untrue as has been ascertained by careful inquiry in responsible quarters.

Since last Tuesday, when the rebel batteries first regularly opened, about 50 vessels have reached Washington and Georgetown.

The schooner loaded with hay, cement, and furniture, which yesterday fell into the hands of the rebels, is the first casualty of that kind, and is alone owning to the breaking of the hawser by which it was fastened to the Resolute, and drifting toward the Virginia shore. The other vessels in tow arrived here safely with the Resolute, notwithstanding the attack from the batteries upon them.

The tug Murray came up during last night with two schooners in tow. They escaped unhurt, though fired upon. The Murray returned the compliment.

This morning a heavy detachment from Gen Smith's division with portions of Mott's and Ayres's batteries, and companies of the 5th regiment of regular cavalry, and Col Friedman's Philadelphia cavalry, advanced towards Fairfax Court House on a reconnoissance. They went as far as Flint Mill, which is two and a half miles this side of that place, and overlooks it.—They say that the pickets of the enemy were in such large force as to impress them with the belief that the reserve of the rebel army was not far from that point. The expedition was accompanied by Gen's. McClellan, Porter, Smith and Lancock. It probably returned about nightfall.

NEW YORK, 20th

British schooner Shark was lost on the African coast Aug 8th. Her crew were fired upon by the Natives but escaped unharmed. The Natives then stripped the vessel and plundered the cargo, carrying it off to the interior. Subsequently the British frigate Arrogant retaliated by destroying a few huts.

DARNESTOWN, 17th

The camp is filled today with rumors of a retreat by our forces before a superior body of rebels at and about Harper's Ferry, some say as far as Williamsport, of the recrossing of our men to the Maryland side, and a subsequent engagement at Harper's Ferry, but nothing reliable has been obtained.

ST. LOUIS, 19th.

The statement in the Cincinnati Gazette of yesterday that Secretary Cameron in his recent visit to this department brought an order from the President instructing Gen. Fremont to transfer the command of the western military department to Gen. Hunter, and that the order was delayed at the request of Gen. Fremont, is pronounced untrue. If Secretary Cameron had such an order, it was not presented. The interview between Gen. Fremont and Secretary Cameron was satisfactory to both parties.

WASHINGTON, 20th.

On the opening of the Telegraph to Great Salt Lake City, the following dispatches were exchanged.

"GREAT SALT LAKE CITY

To the President of the United States

Utah, whose citizens strenuously resist all conjunctions of disloyalty, congratulates the President upon the completion of an enterprise which spans the continent, unites two oceans, and connects remote extremities of the body politic with the great governments heart. May the whole system speedily thrill with the quickened pulsations of that heart, the parricidal hands of political treason be punished, and the entire sisterhood of States join hands in glad reunion around the national fireside.

(Signed) FRANK FULLER,
Acting Governor of Utah

The following is the reply:

SIR—The completion of the telegraph to Great Salt Lake City is auspicious of the stability and union of the Republic. The government reciprocates your congratulations.

(Signed) ABRAHAM LINCOLN.
To FRANK FULLER, Acting Governor

Those who are afflicted with weak nerves will probably be relieved by the fact which was ascertained at the State Department that the advices received by the mails of the steamer Arabia are more than usually satisfactory, but there is great activity in schemes for violating the blockade and introducing contraband goods.

Lord Lyons has addressed a brief circular to Her Majesty's Consuls in the Southern States, enclosing the following as embodied in the official note of the Secretary of State, namely—"The law of blockade, which does not permit a vessel in a blockaded port to take on board a cargo after the announcement of the blockade, will be expected to be strictly observed by all vessels blockaded by the naval forces of the United States. Lord Lyons instructs those Consuls to take this law for their guidance.

It is reported that Secretary Chase has decided that green teas are manufactured articles, and coming from other than places of their growth, are liable to a duty of 25 per cent.—The manufacture consists in the coloring process from which black teas are exempt.

ST LOUIS, 19th.

It is now believed that the large number of men reported to have deserted from Gen Price's army, including some 500 or 600 said to have been disbanded after the fall of Lexington, are still in the service of the rebellion, and will form in bands in various parts of the State for bridge burning and general marauding purposes.

Ariel Wright, a member of the State Convention, Samuel T Churchill, a member of the Legislature, and John T Chappell, all notorious secessionists, were arrested here today by order of the Provost Marshall.

A PROFITABLE WALK. Baron Rothschild sat in his office counting his gains and calculating the risk of sundry loans which had been offered him when a spruce handsome young man entered, and requested the loan of two thousand pounds.

"What is the security?" asked the baron, without looking up.

"My note," was the reply.

The great money lender turned and surveyed his supplicant, scrutinizing him from head to foot. There must have been something honest in the young man's face, for the baron seemed evidently pleased with the result of his scrutiny.

"Would two thousand be sufficient, young gentleman?" said he. "I can let you have ten as well as two."

"Two will answer my purpose now," said the would be borrower.

"Though I do not say I will lend it," said the baron—"but I can put you in the way of getting it, and even ten times that amount if you know how to take advantage of your opportunities."

The young man trembled at the unusual complaisance of a man who, in money matters had the reputation of being very severe. He feared that he was about to propose some doubtful operation and stammered "Honorable proposition?"

"I would make no other," said the Baron, with dignity. "Come we'll take a walk up the street."

Instead of offering his arm to his new acquaintance, he took his, and they promenaded Lombard Street, the baron learning the name and business of his companion, and the object for which he wished the money. Hundreds of people met them, and bowing to the great money king, turned to look and wonder who could be his companion. Some of the richer and more influential denizens of that moneyed street stopped to chat with him and he to them, the baron introducing them to his young friend with the remark, "that any favour they could do him would be considered a personal favour to himself." Many of these were men whose wealth and influences were so great that their very name commanded the involuntary respect of our young friend. He saw his advantage at once. Arriving at the head of the street the Baron affectionately took leave of him, saying "that if he did not obtain the money elsewhere, he might come in the afternoon," and with a knowing wink he got into his carriage and drove off.

Our young friend turned to walk back on Lombard Street. He met one of them—a very Croesus—to whom he had been introduced by the Baron, this person, desirous of cultivating an acquaintance which had such an auspicious introduction held him in conversation in the course of which our friend plumply asked for the loan of £5000. The rich man could not refuse—the applicant had been introduced by Rothschild—he had been endorsed by him—and then the sum would be doing a favor to the great man. The notes were counted out, and the young man's note taken in exchange. The lender looked at the signature. He had never heard the name on change, but never mind, Rothschild would not have walked arm in arm with him as he did, if he had not been perfectly good. So with many assurances of distinguished regard, the two parted. A few steps further the young adventurer met another of his acquaintances, and while holding with him carelessly displayed the bank-notes he had just received, and observing that he had a large amount to make up for a certain great opportunity, and not wishing, for private reasons to apply to his good friend the Baron, he would feel obliged if he would lend him £10 000.

The latter actuated by such motives as the other money lender, counted out the desired amount, and took the note with unknown name in exchange. And so the young man went on borrowing from each of his new friends until he had accumulated a hundred thousand pounds. All this he deposited with Rothschild reserving only the £2000 which he originally desired.—The next day there was a great flutter among the rich men on change and many were the conjectures they made as they "compared notes," about the Baron's friend. Time flew on—no one had seen the money borrower—and some of the lenders began to think that they had been victimized. The Baron was mute to all their enquiries, and they knew not what to think—when just before the time of payment arrived, each one received a note from the strange acquaintance, to the effect that if they would present their note at the banking house of Rothschild, they would be paid. One who had a note of £25,000 went there out of mere curiosity, as he said—when lo! it was cashed. The news spread like wild-fire. All came with their notes, and all as soon as presented, were paid and upon this affair Mr C——— established a credit, which enabled him soon afterwards to establish the great house of C——— & Co., whose credit at the present day in England is almost equal to that of the great Rothschild himself to whose affability its founder owes his fortune and success.

A Party of Rebels Dispersed at Lynn Creek.

NEWS FROM GEN. FREMONT.

Capture of the Rebels at LEXINGTON.

SYRACUSE Mo, 20th

It is reported that acting Brigadier General Wyman, who left Rolla several days since with 2300 men has arrived at Lynn Creek, where he dispersed a body of rebels killing a considerable number, taking over 300 prisoners, and capturing 16 loads of goods belonging to McClung & Co, whom the rebels had robbed.

Advices from Gen Fremont are to 7 o'clock Friday night. He was then at Warsaw. The pontoon bridge across the Osage was to be completed on Saturday.

Gen Sigel's division had crossed the river.

It was reported that Gen Frost had been largely reinforced by Ben McCulloch. They combined their forces at Osceola and fortified the town, and there they will give Fremont battle.

DETROIT, 20

Ex Governor Woodbridge died at his residence in this city today, aged 84 years.

ST LOUIS, 20

The work on the fortifications has not been suspended, and no order to that effect has been issued.

JEFFERSON CITY, 20th

The following is a special despatch to the St Louis Democrat:—"Major Wallace of the 1st Missouri Scouts arrived here today on the steamer Sioux City, and reports that on the 16th 150 of his regiment under Maj White, surprised the rebel garrison at Lexington and captured the place, and all the sick and wounded, together with a quantity of guns, pistols and other articles which the rebels threw away in their flight.—Two pieces of cannon which were in the fort were also captured.

The Sioux City brought down about 100 of our sick and wounded among them Col White who is slowly recovering. The rebel garrison numbered 300. The condition of Lexington is represented as deplorable. Portions of the town have been stripped of everything, and many of the inhabitants are suffering for necessaries of life. The pickets at Osage Bridge were fired on last night. Rebel companies are being recruited in St Amherst.

WASHINGTON, 20th

A private of the 5th Cavalry regiment named Byron Barton, was shot by a rebel picket.

The latest accounts represent Gen McCall as still at Dranesville.

It is represented by several officers of the Customs that permits have been given by unauthorized persons in Northern cities including municipal officials for the transportation of goods destined for localities or contiguous to disloyal States. The power to grant permits in such cases is solely vested in the President and the Secretary of the Treasury. Those from other sources are consequently worthless. In all cases where permits are necessary an application must be made to the Secretary of the Treasury with a full statement of all the facts.

ROLLA, Mo, 20th

The capture of Lynn Creek is confirmed. The place was surrounded on the 14th by Major Wright's Cavalry, the same that routed the rebels near Lebanon and a company of rebels under Capt Robbins and a number of other prisoners including the Sheriff of the County.

A rebel Captain and Lieut were killed in the affair near Lebanon and Lieut Col Somers taken prisoners. All the prisoners taken at both places, 74 in number have arrived here.

FOR the last ten years DRS LIGHTHILL have paid exclusive attention to the treatment of Diseases of the Eye, Ear, and Throat. They have practiced in some of the largest cities in the Union and in order to centralize the[illegible] and accommodate their patients they have permanently located in New York where one of the members of the firm will be constantly present to attend to their practice. For evidence of their success in the treatment of the Diseases of the above mentioned Organs the reader is referred to the annexed notices of the press selected indiscriminately from a large number in their possession.

HOME TESTIMONIALS

CATARRH

This is to certify that I was afflicted with Catarrh in the worst form. I had a constant discharge of mucous from my head into my throat. Hardened pieces of mucous would come from my throat and nostrils after a severe effort to remove them which almost took away my strength. I had a severe pain on top of my head and above my eyes. My food would not digest easy. In fact I was completely run down. Physicians would call my disease incurable. Last Spring, while Dr Lighthill was at Portland, by the persuasion of my friends I placed myself under his care and after two months treatment was entirely cured and have remained well up to this.

SUCCESS OF DR LIGHTHILL. We are pleased to notice the success of Dr Lighthill during his stay thus far in the city. The following remarkable case is thus attested.

To the afflicted with Deafness

I have this day been made almost a new man by an operation by Dr Lighthill which restored to me my hearing, of which I have been deprived for nearly 17 years. My deafness came on gradually. I am 54 years of age and reside in Winterport.

Bangor Times, Oct 7th

Below is a description of Catarrh by Drs Lighthill

Catarrh.

Catarrh is one of the most offensive and deleterious diseases which affect the human frame. Its seat at the commencement is in the mucous membrane of the nose but to show by what means it exerts such a pernicious influence upon the general health, and how it extends itself to so many important organs a short description of that membrane is requisite.

The gastro pulmonary mucous membrane commences at the edges of the lips and nostrils proceeds through the nose and mouth to the throat from whence it is continued throughout the whole length of the alimentary canal to its termination [illegible] of the intestines and also along the windpipe and its various ramifications as far as the air cells for the lungs to which it affords a lining. From the nose the membrane extends through the tear passages until under the name of conjunctiva it spreads over the forepart of the eyeball and inside of the eyelids.

Other offshoots from the nose line the frontal maxillary ethmoidal and sphenoidal cells [illegible] cavities situated in the bones bearing the same name. A prolongation extends through the Eustachian tubes to line that passage and tympanum or middle ear.

Catarrh in its first stages is an inflammation of the lining of the nose. It produces a feeling of uneasiness heat and stiffness in the nostrils [illegible] often closed [illegible] sides [illegible] the thickening of the membrane and from inflammation soon a thin watery substance [illegible] that part of the skin with [illegible]. If the disease is not checked then the discharge soon becomes thick and purulent [illegible] sometimes tinged with blood [illegible] more or less [illegible] offensive [illegible]

BLOOD RENOVATOR,

Is precisely what its name indicates, for while pleasant to the taste, it is revivifying, exhilarating and strengthening to the vital powers.— It also revivifies, reinstates and renews the blood in all its original purity and thus restores and renders the system invulnerable to attacks of disease. It is the only preparation ever offered to the world in a popular form so as to be within the reach of all. So chemically and skillfully combined as to be the most powerful tonic and yet so perfectly adapted as to act in perfect accordance with the laws of nature and hence soothe the weakest stomach, and tone up the digestive organs, and allay all nervous and other irritation. It is also perfectly exhilarating in its effects, and yet it is never followed by lassitude or depression of spirits. It is composed entirely of vegetables and those combined having powerful tonic and soothing properties and consequently can never injure. Such a remedy has long been felt to be a desideratum in the medical world, both by the thoroughly skilled in medical science and also by all who have suffered by debility, for it needs no medical skill or knowledge even to see that debility follows all attacks of disease and lays the unguarded system open to the attacks of many of the most dangerous diseases to which poor humanity is constantly liable. Such for example as the following Consumption, bronchitis, indigestion, dyspepsia, loss of appetite, faintness, nervous irritability, neuralgia, palpitation of the heart, melancholy, hypochondria, night sweats, languor, giddiness and all that class of cases so fearfully fatal if unattended to in time called female weaknesses and irregularities. Also liver derangements or torpidity and liver complaints diseases of the kidneys, scalding or incontinence of the urine, or any general derangement of the urinary organs, pain in the back, side and between the shoulders, predisposition to slight colds, hacking and continued cough, emaciation, difficulty of breathing and indeed we might enumerate many more still, but we have space only to say it will not only cure the debility following chills and fever but prevent all attacks arising from Miasmatic influences and cure the diseases at once if already attacked. And as it acts directly and persistently upon the biliary system arousing the liver to action, promoting in fact all the excretions and secretions of the system it will infallibly prevent any deleterious consequences following upon change of climate and water, hence all travelers should have a bottle with them, and all should take a table spoonful at least before eating. As it prevents costiveness strengthens the digestive organs it should be in the hands of all persons of sedentary habits—students, ministers, literary men. And all ladies not accustomed to much out-door exercise should always use it. If they will, they will find an agreeable pleasant and efficient remedy against those ills which rob them of their beauty, or beauty cannot exist without health and health cannot exist while the above irregularities continue. Then again the cordial is a perfect mother's relief. Taken a month or two before the final trial she will pass the dreadful period with perfect ease and safety. There is no mistake about it this cordial is all we claim for it. Mothers, try it! And to you we appeal to detect the illness or decline, not only of your daughters before it be too late, but also your sons and husbands for while the former from false delicacy often go down to a premature grave rather than let their condition be known in time the latter are often so mixed up with the excitement of business that if it were not for you they too would travel in the same downward path until too late to arrest their fatal fall. But the mother is always vigilant and to you we confidently appeal for we are sure your never failing affection will unerringly point you to Prof Wood's Restorative Cordial and Blood Renovator as the remedy which should be always on hand in time of need. [illegible]

AN equal and regular circulation of the blood [illegible] health. An abnormal that is to say an unequal or irregular [illegible] or stagnation of the blood is disease. To illustrate torpidity of the Liver is caused by stagnation of the blood in that organ. Diseases of the Kidneys, Inflammation of the Lungs, Diseases of the Heart &c by the same cause viz. Improper Circulation. And from the same cause spring all other forms of disease. To discover a certain cure then for these diseases the first great enquiry necessarily is What causes the blood to circulate?

For centuries it has been a matter of much study among scientific and medical men and while many experiments have been made and much labor expended upon the enquiry it was only left to this century [illegible] to make the [illegible] discovery also.

Acknowledging that [illegible] the Great Creator, [illegible] we still venture here to remark that as the planets move in their spheres and all vegetable life is governed by certain absolute laws so animal life is traceable to [illegible] which remove or destroy and lengthen the certain effect of all we.

Analyses of the red corpuscles of the blood show them to be compounds of iron, sulphur and phosphorus

The air we breathe we know to contain a very large proportion of oxygen

Oxygen brought in contact with a metal evolves or creates electricity

Electricity brought in contact with a muscular fibre [illegible] contract.

These facts being indisputable, we have now the solution as to the motor or motive power of the heart. The oxygen of the air we breathe coming in contact with the iron [illegible] of the blood [illegible] muscular fibres of the heart causes it to contract and hence the power which expels the blood [illegible] the arteries. What then are the causes of Consumption, Dropsy, Palsy, Paralysis, St Vitus Dance, Dyspepsia, Bilious, Fever and Ague, &c. [illegible] containing the iron, sulphur and phosphorus which causes a deficiency of electricity and consequently an abnormal circulation. The blood becomes watery, colds and bronchial complaints and prostration ensue—the sufferer becomes nervous and subject to rheumatic pains and neuralgia—[illegible] of the liver and kidneys set in, in short a most every type of disease [illegible] to the deficiency in the blood, of the corpuscles or red globules

Old age causes a deficiency of corpuscles and while we do not pretend to say that we have discovered the elixir vitae we do say that life can be materially prolonged by the use of the which restores the red globules and thus the normal condition. Consumptives, Dyspeptics, [illegible] sufferers from any organic disease, [illegible] unfortunates who have by excess or folly or [illegible] reduced the standard of the blood and consequently the red globules. Ladies suffering any of the distressing weaknesses and complaints [illegible] the Blood Food can cure you. [illegible] where all hope has been given up. Do not reject it, do not throw away your only hope. The "Blood Food" is an unfailing remedy. Give it a trial.

An elaborate treatise carrying out a full proving the theory advanced here to be correct will be mailed to any interested party on the receipt of two cent stamps. Blood Food is sold by all druggists or where it cannot be had I will send it free of expense for $1. Price single bottle $1. It is put up in 1 oz vials, in yellow wrappers—the 1 kind in small bottles in red wrappers having [illegible] and the fac-simile signature of Church & Dupont upon the face of the wrapper. Sarsaparilla

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

And for the speedy cure of the following complaints Scrofula and Scrofulous Affections, such as Tumors, Ulcers, Sores, Eruptions, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Blains, and all Skin Diseases.

OAKLAND, Ind., 6th June 1859

J. C. AYER & Co. Gents: I feel it my duty to acknowledge what your Sarsaparilla has done for me. Having inherited a Scrofulous infection I have suffered from it in various ways for years. Sometimes it burst out in Ulcers on my hands and arms, sometimes it turned inward and distressed me at the stomach. Two years ago it broke out on my head and covered my scalp and ears with one sore, which was painful and loathsome beyond description. I tried many medicines and several physicians but without much relief from any thing. In fact the disorder grew worse. At length I was rejoiced to read in the Gospel Messenger that you had prepared an alterative (Sarsaparilla) for I knew from your reputation that any thing you made must be good. I sent to Cincinnati and got it, and used it till it cured me. I took it as you advise, in small doses of a teaspoonful over a month and used almost three bottles. New and healthy skin soon began to form under the scab which after a while fell off. My skin is now clear, and I know by my feelings that the disease has gone from my system. You can well believe that I feel what I am saying when I tell you that I hold you to be one of the apostles of the age, and remain ever gratefully, Yours

ALFRED B. TALLEY

St Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Sore Eyes, Dropsy

Dr Robert M Preble writes from Salem N Y 12th Sept 1859 that he has cured an inveterate case of Dropsy, which threatened to terminate fatally, by the persevering use of our Sarsaparilla and also a dangerous Malignant Erysipelas by large doses of the same says he cures the common Eruptions by it constantly

Bronchocele, Goitre or Swelled Neck.

Zebulon Sloan of Prospect, Texas, writes "Three bottles of your Sarsaparilla cured me from a Goitre—a hideous swelling on the neck, which I had suffered from over two years."

Leucorrhoea or Whites, Ovarian Tumor, Uterine Ulceration, Female Diseases.

Dr J B S Channing of New York City writes, "I most cheerfully comply with the request of your agent in saying, I have found your Sarsaparilla a most excellent alterative in the numerous complaints for which we employ such a remedy, but especially in Female Diseases of the Scrofulous diathesis. I have cured many inveterate cases of Leucorrhoea by it, and some where the complaint was caused by ulceration of the uterus. The ulceration itself was soon cured. Nothing within my knowledge equals it for these female derangements

Edward S Marrow of Newbury Ala. writes "A dangerous ovarian tumor on one of the females in my family which had defied all the remedies we could employ has at length been completely cured by your Extract of Sarsaparilla. Our physician thought nothing but extirpation could afford relief but he advised the trial of your Sarsaparilla as the last resort before cutting and it proved effectual. After taking your remedy eight weeks no symptom of the disease remains."

Syphilis and Mercurial Disease.

NEW ORLEANS 25th Aug 1859

DR. J C AYER Sir I cheerfully comply with the request of your agent, and report to you some of the effects I have realized with your Sarsaparilla.

I have cured with it in my practice most of the complaints for which it is recommended and have found its effects truly wonderful [illegible] [illegible]

Rheumatism, Gout, Liver Complaint

INDEPENDENCE, Preston Co. Va. 6th July [illegible]

Dr J C AYER. Sir I have been afflicted with a painful chronic Rheumatism for a long time which baffled the skill of physicians and stuck to me in spite of all the remedies I could find until I tried your Sarsaparilla. One bottle cured me in two weeks and restored my general health so much that I am far better than before I was attacked. I think it a wonderful medicine. J FREAM

Jules Y Getchell of St Louis writes "I have been afflicted for years with an affection of the Liver which destroyed my health. I tried every thing and every thing failed to relieve me and I have been a broken down man for some years from no other cause than derangement of the Liver. My beloved pastor the Rev Mr Espy advised me to try your Sarsaparilla because he said he knew you and any thing you made was worth trying. By the blessing of God it has cured me [illegible]

Infallible Liniment,

THE

Great External Remedy

For Rheumatism Gout Neuralgia, Lumbago Stiff Neck and Joints, Sprains, Bruises, Cuts and Wounds, Piles, Headache and all Rheumatic and Nervous Disorders,

FOR all of which it is a speedy and certain remedy and never fails. This Liniment is prepared from the recipe of Dr Stephen Sweet, of Connecticut, the famous bone setter, and has been used in his practice for more than twenty years with the most astonishing success.

AS AN ALLEVIATOR OF PAIN it is unrivalled by any preparation before the public of which the most skeptical may be convinced by a single trial

This Liniment will cure rapidly and radically RHEUMATIC DISORDERS of every kind and in thousands of cases where it has been used, it has never been known to fail

FOR NEURALGIA it will afford immediate relief in every case however distressing.

It will relieve the worst cases of HEADACHE in three minutes and is warranted to do it

TOOTHACHE also will it cure instantly

FOR NERVOUS DEBILITY AND GENERAL LASSITUDE arising from imprudence or excess this Liniment is a most happy and unfailing remedy.—Acting directly upon the nervous tissues it strengthens and revivifies the system and restores it to elasticity and vigor

FOR PILES—As an external remedy we claim that it is the best known and we challenge the world to produce an equal. Every victim of this distressing complaint should give it a trial for it will not fail to afford immediate relief and in a majority of cases will effect a radical cure

QUINSY AND SORE THROAT are sometimes extremely malignant and dangerous but a timely application of this Liniment will never fail to cure

SPRAINS are sometimes very obstinate and enlargement of the joints is liable to occur if neglected. The worst case may be conquered by this Liniment in two or three days

BRUISES CUTS WOUNDS SORES ULCERS BURNS AND SCALDS yield readily to the wonderful healing properties of DR SWEET'S INFALLIBLE LINIMENT when used according to directions. Also CHILBLAINS FROSTED FEET, and INSECT BITES AND STINGS

Every Horse Owner

should have this remedy at hand for its timely use at the first appearance of Lameness will effectually prevent those formidable diseases to which all horses are liable and which render so many otherwise valuable horses nearly worthless

Over four hundred voluntary testimonials to the wonderful curative properties of this Liniment have been received within the last two years and many of them from persons in the highest ranks of life
